Practice LEQs

1. Evaluate the extent to which Enlightenment philosophies influenced the development of modern political systems in the Atlantic world between 1750 and 1900.
2. Evaluate the extent to which the American Revolution and the French Revolution were similar in their motivations and initial outcomes.
3. Evaluate the extent to which the Haitian Revolution (1792–1804) challenged existing social and labor hierarchies in the Atlantic world.
4. Evaluate the extent to which nationalism influenced the formation of new states or the reform of existing ones in the 19th century.
5. Evaluate the extent to which environmental and economic factors contributed to the start of the Industrial Revolution in Great Britain between 1750 and 1850.
6. Evaluate the extent to which the Second Industrial Revolution (1870–1914) differed from the First Industrial Revolution (1750–1850).
7. Evaluate the extent to which state-sponsored industrialization in Russia and Japan changed their political and economic status in the late 19th century.
8. Evaluate the extent to which the Meiji Restoration (1868) marked a significant turning point in Japan’s social and political structure.
9. Evaluate the extent to which non-Western states successfully resisted or adapted to Western imperialism between 1800 and 1900.
10. Evaluate the extent to which global migrations between 1750 and 1900 were driven by economic and environmental factors.
11. Evaluate the extent to which imperial rivalries and alliance systems contributed to the outbreak of World War I in 1914.
12. Evaluate the extent to which the Russian Revolution (1917) changed the social and economic structure of Eurasia during the 20th century.
13. Evaluate the extent to which the Great Depression (1929–1939) caused a change in the role of the state in national economies.

14. Evaluate the extent to which the rise of totalitarian regimes in the interwar period (1918–1939) was a response to economic and political instability.

15. Evaluate the extent to which World War II was a "Total War" that mobilized entire populations and utilized new industrial technologies.

16. Evaluate the extent to which the Cold War (1947–1991) was characterized by indirect conflict and proxy wars rather than direct military engagement.

17. Evaluate the extent to which decolonization movements in Africa and Asia were influenced by nationalist and anti-imperialist ideologies after 1945.

18. Evaluate the extent to which the economic policies of the People’s Republic of China changed between the leadership of Mao Zedong and Deng Xiaoping.

19. Evaluate the extent to which globalization influenced the integration of world economies and cultures in the late 20th century.

20. Evaluate the extent to which scientific and medical advancements (such as the Green Revolution or antibiotics) addressed global challenges in the 20th century.